

LUXURY

LUXURY MAGAZINE

FALL 2017

7. VENICE, ITALY

Designer: Brummel Cucine, brummelcucine.it Square Feet: 323 The Gear: Wine cellar, coffee machine, and traditional and steam ovens, all by Neff; Wolf five-burner cooktop with built-in grill and wok.

In a grand display of Venetian glamour, this apartment kitchen contains the dramatic marriage of embossed silver crocodile leather cabinets trimmed in black lacquer. "The owner, a Russian businesswoman who works in jewelry, believes Venice is a city that conveys inspiration," says Brummel Cucine owner Francesco Stragliotto. Her home, fully outfitted by the company, is certainly gem-like. The silver leather, inky lacquer, and range hood's mirror-tile facing complement glittery tenting above the adjacent dining table. The details function like facets of a precious cut stone—catching, reflecting, and refracting light around the space. "The purpose was to create a cooking area that was fashionable and didn't look anything like a traditional kitchen," says Stragliotto. >

